

General terms and conditions of use of banktory.com

Please read these terms and conditions of use carefully as compliance is a key prerequisite for the use of banktory.com. If we become aware of any breaches of these terms and conditions of use, we will be entitled to block your access to the site.

Ownership and copyright

This website, including all texts, images, logos and brands, particularly the brand banktory.com, are exclusively owned by Treamo Business Consulting GmbH (Treamo), Wiesingerstrasse 8, 1010 Vienna, Austria.

Registration and scope of services

You are required to provide full and complete personal data when registering to use our services. You are permitted to select your preferred user name for the purposes of participating in forums, chats or using the other communication options available on banktory.com. Your true identity will remain hidden and protected. It is entirely up to you to decide whether and when you reveal your real name and contact details to other users. The following are not permitted as an element of user names:

- Brand names
- Company names and any abbreviations thereof

We reserve the right to block any user accounts which violate these rules.

By registering as a user, you grant Treamo permission to use data and user behavior statistics in an anonymized form for the purposes of conducting analyses and to make the results of these analyses available to third parties, e.g. in order to demonstrate the number of users on the banktory.com website.

Use of this site

You are authorized to view the contents of this website but not, however, to duplicate these contents in any form.

Exclusion of warranty and limitation of liability

Although Treamo always strives to ensure the accuracy of the data stored on the banktory.com website, we cannot accept any liability in this regard.

Treamo accepts no liability for the accuracy of the information provided by other users in forums or provided by means of direct communication.

Links to other sites

Banktory.com contains links to third-party websites. Treamo accepts no liability for the contents of, and services provided by, third-party websites.

Use of chats and forums on banktory.com

Among other features, banktory.com acts as a communication platform in the form of forums and chats. Treamo ensures that the contents of these communication platforms are not accessible to non-members and will also not be found by search engines.

The publication of postings on banktory.com automatically assigns Treamo unlimited rights of use and exploitation to these contributions.

Treamo retains the right, without the need to consult the relevant users, to delete user entries which:

- Are racist, insulting or intolerant in nature
- Slander or libel another individual
- Contain junk mail, chain letters or spam, or
- Infringe upon third-party copyrights

Treamo also retains the rights to delete user postings and entries for other reasons.

Code of conduct for members from banks, business consultancies, software providers, headhunters or providers of other services in or for the area of finance

We welcome your use of banktory.com. We wish to point out, however, that it is not permitted to use banktory.com, and its forums in particular, for the purposes of customer acquisition, advertising your own products and services or for headhunting purposes. These rules apply equally to Treamo personnel and the partner companies of Treamo.

If you, as a user, feel that you are being targeted by someone from one of the abovementioned groups and object to this, please advise us of this. Your protection and sphere of privacy are very important to Treamo and banktory.com can only develop to become an effective platform if this code of conduct is complied with.

Changes

Treamo may change these terms and conditions of use or parts thereof at any time. You will be informed in the event of significant changes to these terms and conditions of use.
